RURAL LIFE WORK SHOWN BY PUPILS

THREE SCHOOLS IN MEETING AT MARTHA WASHINGTON

VISITORS LIKE PROGRAM

Effective Presentation Made of County's Fame in Vitalized Agriculture Teaching

A meeting was held at the Martha Washington school last night at which the children from Scudder, where Miss Bessie Dinsmore is the teacher, Bell Grove, where Miss Hester DeNeen is teacher, and Martha Washington, where Miss Eula Snowberger is teacher, demonstrated the work they have been doing in vitalized agriculture since school began in September. Dr. Fred Keller and Prof. C. G. Stiensmeyer of the State Teachers College, and George A. Pickens of the Chamber of Commerce were present and made short talks at the close of the demonstrations.

Doctor Keller told how he had heard of the work of Nodaway county's rural schools before he came to Maryville, and said he was convinced of the authenticity of the reports when he saw the children demonstrate the work they are doing each day in school.

Professor Stiensmeyer assured the people of the rural communities that he was ready to render any assistance possible to promote the good work, as did Doctor Keller. Professor Stiensmeyer is now working on the course for the teachers next summer who will prepare for the teaching of vitalized agriculture.

Mr. Pickens expressed his desire to be of service to the people of the country and pledged the good will and support of the Chamber of Commerce for every move that is for the best interest of Nodaway county. He assured the people that the Chamber of Commerce existed for Nodaway county and not for just Maryville.

The first number on the program was an explanation of the establishment of the ranges and townships in land surveys, giving the principal meridian and the base line showing how the townships were numbered in rows from these two lines. This was given by Orville Baker, and he used the blackboard in drawing and explaining his talk. Roy McCord explained a plat of the Martha Washington district and showed the sections and portions of sections with the numbers of the land and the acres included.

Ruth Ramey explained the survey of one of the farms on live stock, showing the number of cattle, horses, hogs, sheep, chickens, etc, and giving the type, breed, color and the purebred, grades and mixed breeds of each. This was a sample of the survey that was made for every farm in each of the three districts.

A summary of the survey for the Bell Grove district was given by Walter Mutz, who is only 8 years old, but who has done the survey work and has taken part in all the study of vitalized agriculture in the district last year and this year. He talked as fluently as an experienced lecturer as he held his pointer and talked from a chart to a very much interested audience.

Mildred [illegible] then gave a summary of the livestock, including poultry, [illegible] Grove district. It was interesting that the Bell Grove district has a purebred livestock, and Mildred made it in a very interesting way.

Esther Hall from the Scudder district gave a recitation ,"Our Foster Mother," in which she eulogized the cow, and pleased the whole audience as well as instilling within them a high regard for this faithful and worthy friend.

Frank Palmer, 8 years old, then explained in detail the working of the drawing for the pig trough. He had the drawing on the board and as he explained the dimensions of each piece he showed on the pig trough already made just where the pieces belonged. The intense interest of the crowd was evidence of Frank's interest in the thing he was doing. He made his climax by ending up "and you have a hog trough that will hold water."

Mary Crowson then stepped to the board and from the dimensions gave the problem in arithmetic showing the amount of board feet material needed to make the hog trough.

Mildred Bailey read an excellent composition on a field trip the class had taken on the study of insects. This was one she had wirtten for a language lesson for vitalized agriculture, basing the language work of the pupil on reports of the things he has done or learned about.

At the finish of this composition Elsie Bird stepped to the front with her arms full of various apparatus she had made in connection with the insect study. She explained how the breeding box was made and opened her jack knife and proceeded to cut the box and sew in the screen wire and make one.

The life cycle of the insect was explained by Esther Hull, and she held in her hand the mounting box in which she had the insect she had captured, showing the different stages. She had the eggs, the worm, the cocoon and then the butterfly. Her interest caused her to forget her self-consciousness, and she talked fluently. Dorothy McCord gave an autobiography of a potato bug. This typified the harmful insects, and she brought out the method of eradication.

Each school had a girl contestant in the two contests, one on locating and describing land, and the other a board-sawing contest. Mr. Pickens acted as judge. Bell Grove won in the land description, and Scudder in the board-sawing contest.

One of the greatest factors that contributed to the success of the meeting was the excellent lights furnished by Mr. Haley with his Delco system. Vitalized agriculture emphasizes modern home conveniences, and the fact that the farmer can have excellent electric lighting about his farm and electric washers, irons, study lamps, etc., was actually demonstrated by the use of electric lights at the meeting.

M. H. S. RUNS OVER ALBANY, 68 TO 0

GAME CALLED IN FOURTH QUARTER; NO MORE SUBS

LOCALS SCORE AT WILL

French Stars With Three Touchdowns, and Six Out of Ten Goals; Bethany Here Next

The Maryville High School football team gets better as it goes along, or its opponents get worse, or something, for the Albany High School team was simply massacred yesterday afternoon on the State Teachers College gridiron by a score of 68 to 0. The demolition of the Albany team was real as well as figurative, for the game had to be called off with four-fifths of the last quarter yet to be played. By that time all the Albany substitutes had been used up.

Goodness only knows what the score would have been if the whole last quarter had been played, for the local team was scoring as rapidly as it could parade down the field.

The Albany men were husky enough, but they seemed to be out of condition. Every few minutes time had to be taken out for some injury on the visiting team. The Maryville boys were hitting them hard and low—no rough work, just real playing—and the visitors seemed totally unable to stand the gaff. At that, the Gentry county team was game enough and always came back for more.

Maryville may have outweighed the visitors, but the difference was not great enough to be appreciable. In every department of the game the home team outclassed the visitors, and that is about all there is to the story.

The most damaging injuries to the Albany team were those which laid out Jones, quarterback, in the first half, with a disabled shoulder, and O. McCoy, left halfback, in the last quarter, with a poor rib. McCoy renewed an old injury which he had received in a scrimmage against the Palmer College team at Albany. His injury was the one that caused the game to be called off.

Bennett (Bud) French starred for the Maryville team with three touchdowns to his credit. Miller made two; Allen, two; King, one; Campbell, one; Williams, one. These ten touchdowns totaled sixty points. Albany was pushed over its own goal line for a safety, adding two points, and French kicked six out of the ten goals, making the team's total sixty-eight points.

The game started with a touchdown by Miller from the first down, on a long run. After that there was no doubt of the result. A good crowd was out and a few yells added some zip to the proceedings.

A good game is assured for next Friday. Bethany high school, which Maryville defeated at Bethany in the last few minutes of play by a score of 7 to 0 two weeks ago, will come here seeking revenge. The game there was close and hard fought, and the one here is expected to be of the same kind. Maryville so far has won three straight victories this season and has been scored upon but once.

The line-ups for the game yesterday were as follows:

| MARYVILLE | | ALBANY |
|---|---|---|
| Carstens, l. e. | | r. e. Gray |
| Campbell, l. t. | | l. t. Miller |

TEACHERS' COLLEGE WHIPPED BY KIRKSVILLE; SCORE 87-0

Maryville Men Put Up a Game Fight at Football; Richards Forced to Leave the Contest

Outweighed and outnumbered, the football players from the State Teachers College went down to defeat yesterday at Kirksville by a score of 87 to 0, the worst defeat so far this season. Their opponents from the Kirksville State Teachers College had a squad of thirty-eight men on the field, drawn from an enrollment of two hundred men in the college. Maryville had thirteen men, a team and two substitutes.

In spite of this handicap, however, they showed a good fight from the start to the finish. Some of the Kirksville players acknowledged that the players from Maryville showed more grit than any team they had met this season. In the fourth quarter, the visiting team rallied and made the victors work hard for what they got.

Wells and McLautin played good games for Maryville. Captain Richards was forced to leave the game at the end of the first half, having renewed injuries sustained previously. Long took Elmore's place at guard; Elmore went to an end position, and Stuart went to the backfield in place of Richards. Wray, Maryville's star end, did not play, being kept out by injuries.

The Maryville line-up at the opening of the game was: King, center, Elmore and Masters, guards, Wells and McLautin, tackles; Stuart and Nelson, ends; Houchens, quarter; Wells and Puckett, halfbacks; Richards, fullback; Wray and Long, substitutes.

The team returned to Maryville this morning.

HANGS HIMSELF IN HIS NEPHEW'S BARN

ALEX BAGBY COMMITS SUICIDE NEAR SKIDMORE

NO REASON IS ASSIGNED

Ill Health Thought to Have Been the Cause; the Burial Will be at Skidmore Tomorrow

Alex Bagby, 61 year old, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by hanging himself in the hay barn of his nephew, J. R. Bagby, living near Skidmore. His body was discovered about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and it is thought that he had been dead about an hour.

No note was found or cause given for Mr. Bagby's ending his life except that he had been in ill health for some time.

Mr. Bagby is survived by his wife, who has been living in Maryville, and four children, Elmer, Russell and Miss Beular Bagby, of Maryville, and Mrs. Ernest Thull of Pickering.

Funeral services will be held at Skidmore Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the M. E. church, South.

Mr. Bagby was born and reared in this county.

A view inquest was held today by Dr. Frank Wallis of Maryville, coroner.

THIS IS ONE ERROR THAT WE ARE GLAD TO CORRECT

Mrs. Margaret Graham Drops in and Says it Was the Other Side That Appealed Case

Mrs. Margaret Graham of Chicago and her daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Taylor of Maryville, dropped into the Democrat-Forum office last night long enough to call our attention in a perfectly good natured manner to an error in our report of the doings in circuit court yesterday morning in which the daughter argued for and got a change of venue in her mother's suit against James C. Pistole, executor of the estate of John A. Johnson of Hopkins. The error consisted in assigning to the wrong party the appeal from the probate court which brought the case into circuit court.

The appeal was made by the defendant, Mr. Pistole, not by Mrs. Graham, as stated. Mrs. Graham said the settlement she obtained in the probate court was quite satisfactory to her. She wanted about $2,000 for her services, including the cancellation of notes for $700 her father had held against her. This she obtained. The defendant was unable to agree with the settlement, and this brought the matter into the higher court.

Incidentally, Mrs. Graham and her daughter are quite convinced that they know a little law themselves. The loss of their two lawyers, M. E. Ford and Charles F. McCaffrey, who withdrew from the case yesterday, doesn't worry them a great deal. They expect that the change of venue will stand, in spite of the contrary opinions expressed by some of the Maryville lawyers. Mrs. Graham had her daughter put some mony down on the judge's desk, and she contends that the minute the money was offered the change of venue had to be granted, no matter how far along the case had gone. At least, that is what she has seen happen in Chicago, where her husband has served on juries, and she figures that it ought to work here, too.

Married in St. Joseph.

License to marry was issued in St. Joseph yesterday to Miss Mary E. Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Fisher of this city, and Walter F. Scott, also of Maryville. Mr. Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Scott, 221 West Seventh street.

PICTURES OF COUNTY ADDED TO PROPOSED C. OF C. EXHIBIT

Nodaway Will be Advertised in Papers and at National Convention at Indianapolis

The Maryville Chamber of Commerce is receiving pictures all the time from farmers and stock men over the county to add to the collection that will be used to advertise the county in the city papers and at Indianapolis, Ind., the last part of this month, when Secretary George A. Pickens goes to the convention of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries. Mr. Pickens will leave Maryville October 25. The convention will be in session October 27, 28 and 29.

Farm scenes, herds, fine animals—these and many other subjects showing the greatness of the county are to be included in the collection of pictures that Mr. Pickens will have in his exhibit at Indianapolis.

A picture of the $45,000 bull and the Caldwell herd of Angus cattle at Burlington Junction will be in the collection, and Mr. Pickens has also the promise of the Calwell album of stock pictures. Inquiries coming even from Scotland indicate that this price is a record for Angus cattle.

MRS. EMMETT BEAL IS DEAD; PRIVATE FUNERAL TUESDAY

Gained Fame as a Newspaper Woman; Was Father's Assistant in the Probate Court

Mrs. Laura Snyder Beal, wife of Emmett Beal, died this morning at 9 o'clock at the home of her mother, Mrs. Anna Snyder, 616 East Fourth street ,after a protracted illness.

Private services will be held Tuesday afternoon at the Snyder residence for relatives and a few intimate friends. An uncle and wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Seph Murhp of Los Angeles, Calif. and a brother, Fred Snyder, also of Los Angeles are enroute to Maryville to attend the funeral.

Surviving are Mr. Beal, Mrs. Snyder, and two brothers, Harry Snyder of Maryville and Fred Snyder of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Beal was the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Frederick D. Snyder, Mrs. Snyder still living on East Fourt street in the old Snyder home, the first residence built by Judge Snyder in 1870. Judge Snyder was probate judge of Nodaway Co. He was editor of the old Maryvile Times, and his daughter, Mrs. Beal, assisted him in writing for the paper. Later she was for over nine years society editor of the Maryville Tribune, and was correspondent for St. Joseph, Kansas City and St. Louis papers. Her "Butterfly" letters were widely read.

Mrs. Beal was educated in Dr. Dulin's school for young women in St. Joseph, and when through with that course became her father's assistant during his term of office as probate judge. She was the first woman in the county to have been so occupied.

TREATY OPPOSITION TO COLLAPSE SOON

EVEN "BITTER ENDERS" ADMIT THAT IT IS NO USE NOW

MAY HAVE A FILIBUSTER

Senator LaFollette a Danger; Two Full Amendments Thrown Out Yesterday

Washington, Oct. 18.—There were an abundance of indications that the long fight in the senate to kill the treaty is on the verge of final collapse. Even senators belonging to the group known as "bitter enders" admitted that the defeat of the Shantung amendment on Thursday had dealt the opposition a staggering blow from which they are unlikely to recover.

An eleventh-hour filibuster, with Senator LaFollette speaking for four or five days, is threatened by some, but the Republican leaders expressed the belief that they will be able to stave it off.

Washington, Oct. 18.—After a brief debate and without the formality of a record vote, the senate yesterday threw out two more of the amendments written into the peace treaty by the foreign relations committee.

The two amendments had been introduced by Senator Fall, Republican, New Mexico, and had as their common purpose curtailment of the power of the American representative on the reparation commission, an international body set up by the treaty to fix and collect Germany's reparation bill.

The vote came sooner than had been expected, the leaders agreeing to it as part of a plan to complete the consideration of amendments as soon as possible so that the senate might get down to the real work of drafting a ratification resolution. Only two of the committee's forty-six amendments now remain to be considered and it is hoped to bring them to a vote early next week. They both relate to equalization of voting strength in the League of Nations.

London, Oct. 18.—"We are going to suffer a winter meat shortage which will be as bad as anything we knew during the war," is the prediction of a big British meat trader, as quoted by the Star. ## QUITMAN FORMS PERMANENT HOMECOMING ASSOCIATION

Yearly Celebration is Planned as Result of Success of Event Recently Held

At a meeting held in Quitman last night a permanent organization was formed for the purpose of holding an annual celebration at Quitman. It is the plan to hold a street fair and combined agricultural exhibits, for which generous prizes will be awarded, in September of each year.

The name selected for the organization was "The Green Township Homecoming Association." The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Ed N. Malvern; secretary, G. J. Hickerson; treasurer, C. A. Johnston.

The soldiers' homecoming and barbecue held this year was a success in every way and has stimulated an interest to hold a similar celebration yearly. Practically all the population of Quitman and vicinity will pull together in an effort to place Green township in its proper position among the townships of Nodaway county.

Boy's Nose Replaced by Doctor.

Windsor, Eng., Oct. 18. — William Robertson, a stable boy, literally lost his nose for three-quarters of an hour but he points to it in proof that it's as good as ever today. Falling lass cut his nose off. He was taken to a hospital where the arteries were tied. "Where is the nose?" the surgeon asked. The doctor's son cycled to the stable and found the nose in a box stall in the straw. The boy hurried back and the surgeon worked so skillfully that the original Robertson nose is now in place and unmarred.

New York, Oct. 18.—The intoxicating powers in 2.75 beer has been reduced to an exact measure. Thus far, however, the secret is locked in the psychological department of the Columbia University in this city, where the experiments were made. The secret will not be made public until the case of the Jacob Hoffman Brewing Company comes up in the United States court. Prof. H. L. Hollingsworth and R. S. Woodworth made the tests, using six law students as subjects. The professors fed the students beer under varying conditions and then put them through a number of psychological tests.

APPLICATIONS OF DISABLED SOLDIERS GET QUICK ACTION

War Department Writes to Chamber of Commerce Telling of the New Arrangements Made

The Maryville Chamber of Commerce has just received the following letter from the war department which should be of interest to all disabled soldiers:

Former soldiers, sailors and marines who have incurred disabilities in line of duty which has necessitated major amputations, such as the loss of a hand or foot, both hand or both feet, or loss of one or both eyes, and who are desirous of taking vocational training, can now have their applications acted on withing 24 hours, according to a bulletin issued today by the office of the assistant of the secretary of war; service and information branch. The bulletin is as follows:

"Under a new policy just put into effect by the Federal Board for Vocational Education, men who have become disabled in the service of the army or navy, no matter what the extent or nature of such disability, are enabled to have their applications for training acted on much more quickly than formerly. Heretofore all applications for training were referred from the District Vocational Training Office to the Federal Board at Washington for action, thereby entailing much delay and working needless hardships on the men making the applications. Under the new system all of these applications are acted on by traveling field representatives who have been sent out from Washington. These representatives cover the entire country and visit each vocational board at least once every two weeks, at which time all cases ready in the district office are cleared up. The only cases which such traveling representatives must refer to Washington are those involving courses for a period longer than two years. Of these the Washington office will give a decision within ten days.

"Men who have had major amputations, such as the loss of a hand or a foot, or both hands or both feet, or loss of sight of one or both eyes, come under a special class. Their applications will be acted upon by the District Vocational Officer, who has authority to approve courses up to and including four years in length without referring them to Washington. Cases of this character should be cleared up within 24 hours.

"The Federal Board of Vocational Education has also adopted a definite policy regarding tuberculosis cases. Any arrested case of tuberculosis will be considered as 25 per cent disabled for a period of two years from date of arrest, and the Bureau of War Risk Insurance has agreed that they will consider arrested cases as 25 per cent disabled for the first six months and 10 per cent for the following eighteen. This decision enables the giving of the necessary hospital and medical treatment to men in this class."

This bulletin has been issued in accordance with advices received by the war department from the federal board.

SAVINGS CAMPAIGN TO END ON ARMISTICE DAY, NOV. 11

Tenth Federal Reserve District Makes Special Effort to Sell Stamps and Certificates

An opportunity is offered Nodaway county and every other community in the Tenth Federal Reserve District to celebrate Armistice Day, November 11, in a substantial manner. The celebration will end a savings campaign just launched by the district to clean up its share of the 1919 War Savings Stamps and their big brothers, the new Treasury Savings Certificates of $100 and $1,000 denominations. The savings organization expects to announce on November 11 that it has sold $10,000,000 in these securities which are presented as a "peace offering" to commemorate a year of peace.

The amount to be raised has been apportioned among the banks of the district. Customers of the banks are urged to ask their banker about these certificates which are governed by the same general regulations as War Savings Stamps. Any banker can order certificates and postoffices are authorized to sell those of $100 denomination.

During October the $100 certificates will cost only $84.20, and those of $1,000 will cost $842. In November they will cost $84.40 and $844 respectively. When they mature on January 1, 1924, they will be worth face value. Those who cannot take advantage of the offer of these certificates may aid the campaign by buying War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps. If the people of this district buy the ten millions before November 1 they will not only save the original ten millions but will make $1,580,000 in interest accrued in the four years and two months from November 1, 1919.

JUNIOR'S SCREEN PARTY NETS ABOUT $50 FOR M. H. S. FUND

Athletic Association Profits From Slide Show; Thanks of Class Go to F. R. Marcell

The screen party given at the Maryville high school last night by the juniors of the school was a complete success. The sale of the pictures that gave most of the amusement last night is expected to add to the receipts.

The special thanks of the juniors and those who attended the show are due to F. R. Marcell, the photographer, who labored so hard to make the event a success. Mr. Marcell made the slides from the snapshots the juniors furnished, and by means of some rapid work managed to present last night pictures taken at the football game yesterday afternoon.

A program of songs, readings and "moving picture" added to the entertainment of the crowd.

Does One-Half of the Possible Service of Your Tires Go to the Junk Pile?

When a tire become tread-worn or blows out, in many cases it is thrown in a corner or hung up in the garage and replaced with a new one.

Hundreds of tires not more than half worn out are discarded in this way, when in nearly every instance a good repair would put them back in service for hundreds, and many thousands of males.

Rough roads, mud and chains make mighty expensive driving when you use new tires. A ten-mile drive often costs the price of one or more new tires, when a repaired tire would serve as well and at a fraction of the cost of a new one.

The average repair on a tire can be made in two days, complete rebuilding requires three days.

We have a complete stock of repaired and rebuilt tires for sale. Price $3.50 up, depending on the size and kind of tire.

BILL WILL OFFER LAND TO SOLDIERS

G. O. P. LEADERS BEGIN TO RECOVER FROM COLD FEET

FARM BOY HEARD FROM

Project is Not Equipped to Interfere With Any Bonus Law That May be Enacted

Washington, D. C. Oct. 18.—Reports of an understanding that forecasts passage of the Lane soldiers land bill, popularly known as the Mondell land bill, are beginning to emanate from the committee on Public Lands of the House of Representatives. This bill, considered so good by the Republicans that it had to be introduced early in the present extra session, by the Republican floor leader, Mondell, from whom it now takes its name, has been allowed to lie in committee for months because the Republican leaders were suffering from what is konwn in slang as "cold feet" or plain political fear. Questions have been raised about it, hearings running into months have been held on it, but it has been allowed to lie dorment until some positive political advantage could be seen in its passage.

Farmer Soldiers Heard From.

Although it is generally claimed that the city boy is more interested in the bonus than in an opportunity for obtaining land, the sentiment of the ex-service men from the rural districts is now beginning to make itself felt, and renewed effort is apparent on the part of the Republican leaders. For awhile those feathering the bill, including both Democrats and Repulicans began to feel that it was foredoomed to defeat because of the adverse sentiment created against it. In the light of new explanations of the bill and because of the agreement said to have been reached in the committee, it is now predicted that the bill will pass and give to the boy interested in land and farm projects and who fought for hos country an opportunity to develop his future in an ex-soldiers farming community.

Objection Is Overcome.

Opponents of the bill, who were chiefly those who feared that it would minimize the chances of a bonus being granted to all ex-service men, at first brought up the objection that the measure was really a project to develop certain sectional areas for the advantage of land profiteers, and certain sections such as the South and West. The bill was never intended for this purpose, and to overcome this wrong impression it is reported that the committee has practically agreed to amend the bill so as to make such a project impossible. In other words the country will be divided into four sections of any appropriation for the developement of these soldier lands will be spent in any one section, and each fourth to be divided in turn among the projects in each of the twelve states, in this way, instead of being a sectional bill it is assured of becoming an opportunity carried to men living in rural communities and who want to take up farming in their own section of the country.

Is an Added Advantage.

Instead of being a hindrance to the soldiers, sailors and marines bonus measure, this land bill stands on its own feet as an added advantage to the men who served their country during the war. It will require no actual expenditure of money out of the Federal Treasury except in the form of a loan for financing the men who go into the land project, plus of course the administrative expenditures, where the first halt came in the bill on this score actually was that the Republican majority, casting about in the early days of the present Congress for an inexpensive way of compensating the soldiers, tried to play this bill up as the great soldiers relief measure. That it did not fill that bill and that it was not intended to fill that was that bill was seen by even some of the Republican leaders, and because it was not complete in that sense it was argued that it was no boon to the soldier.

G. O. P. Forced Into Open.

When, after more than six months, sentiment forced the Republican majority into the open on what it intended to do for the men who had been in service they began to give their attention to some of the measures that had been introduced early in the session. Although there is still procrastination, waiting on the turn or political sentiment and the political advantages they can predict for themselves in doing anything for the soldier, they are at last up against the proposition of whether they intend to do anything.

On the other hand, no longer able to use the land bill as a camouflage or curtain for their inaction, the land bill is now beginning to stand on its own feet and as more light is thrown on it it begins to look a great deal more presentable than it was first reported to be by interested politicians. The bill as conceived by Secretary of Interior Franklin K. Lane was a much broader bill than the impression that Republicans have allowed to go out about it would indicate.

Some Money is Needed.

The original draft made it necessary for the soldier wishing to take advantage of it to have at his command enough money to give himself a start. That is, if he worked on the reclamation projects either in the east, west, north or south, he was supposed to have been able to save enough from the money paid him by the government for this work by the time the farms were ready for occupancy, for the first payment. But some may not need this sort of intervening employment but will want a farm. Whether any measure will be taken in the recommendations of the committee to limit the sum first required is a question. There is no doubt that it can be done and that thus the securing of this opportunity by the soldier, sailor or marine can be made easier, but the question is whether the committee with a Republican majority will see fit to do so. If no action is taken by the committee then it is probable that some steps will be taken among the soldiers themselves, and their friends about the country to so organize the soldiers' land loan work that it will be possible for all men who have been in the service and who are seriously interested in the land project to secure the funds necessary for original payments on terms that will be agreeable to them.

The whole project has now come down to a point where those members of the committees who waited on the turn of political considerations are now beginning to feel the pressure of the rural opinion, and it is said to be only a question of how much longer they dare to dally with this measure.

Electrical Appliances for Trade Week

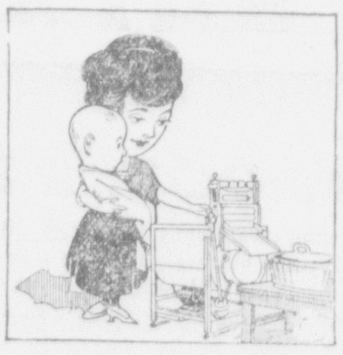
The household that is equipped with electrical appliances has every advantage of modern efficiency, in time and labor saving devices, and it is making full use of the electrical energy that is delivered to it by the wires that run into the house.

All of the appliances have been thoroughly tested and are in use in hundreds of homes right around you, so you know what they will do.

A breakfast of hot bacon, eggs and toast can be served on short notice with the electric grill, or it may be used for a hundred and one chafing dish menus. The cooking is all done on the table without running into the kitchen. Fine in summer when you don't want a fire and better in winter when the kitchen is cold.



Whether you can get a 'wash lady' or not will make very little difference if you have an electric washer. We have been selling lots of washers lately and every one who buys one is delighted with it. Most of them say, "how did I ever get along without it?" By the turn of a switch you can do a washing that would ordinarily take hours of rubbing by the old process, and do it in an early morning hour.

The electric sewing machine is efficiency itself. It is power directly applied without loss, and it saves lots of space, as the electric machine sits on any table and can be put away on the top shelf in the closet when not in use.

We have lots of other electrical appliances, such as coffee percolators, vacuum sweepers, irons, toasters, etc. Come and see them during Maryville's Big Merchandising Week

Several books yet remaining on the order are expected soon.

Starkey Funeral Services.

The body of Mrs. Ruth Starkey of Lincoln, Neb., arrived in Maryville last night, accompanied by two sons, Ben and George Starkey of Des Moines, Iowa. Another son, John Starkey of Waco, Neb., came Thursday night to attend the funeral. The funeral services were held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the undertaking parlors of the Maryville Furniture Company, conducted by the Rev. R. C. Holliday of the South Methodist church. Burial was in Oak Hill cemetery. The pallbearers were James Murray, Jim Markwell, John Strawn, Tom Wiles, Sam Moon and Fred Smith. Mrs. Starkey is also survived by two brothers, Al and Ike Middleton of Maryville.

Miners Firm About Coal Strike.

Washington, Oct. 18.—"We will strike in order to live," declared John Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, today. He declared this afternoon that there are slight hopes of averting the threatened call of the strike because of the attitude of operators.

Fire Flingers at Empire Tonight.

Suspense is the dramatic keynote of "The Fire Flingers," a Universal Special Attraction starring Rupert Julian and directed by himself, which comes to the Empire theatre tonight. Tense situations pile up and merge into a tremendous climax. This "big scene" is a combination of melodrama, pathos and tenderness executed by three exceptional players—Julian, Jane Novak, his leading woman, and Clyde Fillmore, who plays the chief of police.

"The Fire Flingers" is a real thriller. Its exciting moments are strung along without any let-up and a terrific surprise just precedes the denouement into which Julian and his supporting cast have put every ounce of histrionic energy and subtle art that these talented screen folk possess.

The plot is chock-full of interest. The story was written by William J. Neidig for the Saturday Evening Post, and the scenario is by Waldemar Young.

Julian enacts a dual role: he is at once Olwell, a wealthy publisher, and Hatton, an ex-convict just out of the penitentiary. The star-director has a capable foil in E. A. Warren, who is the Chris Cotteril of the piece, while Fay Tincher, the comedienne-"vamp"; Fritzie Ridgeway, William Lloyd and Fred Kelsey have important parts.

The photography, which is exceptional, was by Edward Kull.

To Open Gospel Mission.

The gospel mission of the American Rescue Workers, formerly known as the American Salvation Army, will be opened about November 1 under the Real Estate Bank, corner Fourth and Market streets. Staff Captain Signer and wife are the officers in charge with headquarters at 216 South Market street.
